Intensive Food Drive for Needy Families Begins Last Lap Today

Hatchet and Student Council Inaugurate Campaign to Feed Hungry Poor

STUDENTS' AID ASKED

Barrels Placed in Front of Library, Corcoran, Law School for Gifts

An intensive campaign drive for Christmas Food for Needy Families was begun last week under the sponsorship of The Hatchet and Student Council. Though actual work was begun only last Thursday, every section of the campus has been covered in an effort to make the Christmas Basket drive a complete success.

With the aid of faculty, administrative, fraternity, sorority, and campus club committees, at least fifty families were assured a complete Christmas basket within 24 hours after the drive began. The Medical and Law School faculties and student bodies have joined the University in the project.

Students Asked to Donate
Only the general student body, not contacted through organizations, remain to aid in the already assured success of the Christmas food plan. Today and tomorrow, large barrels will be placed in front of the Library, Law School, and Corcoran Hall to receive whatever donations the students may care to make. The general committee asked that students buy some small article of food, such as suggested in the "Basket List" on this page. "Drop your little package of food in the barrel, and help the baskets grow" was the way one member appealed for aid.

Only Takes Ten Cents
Food or other items that may be obtained through the generous support of the various groups or individuals on the campus will be carried to the homes of needy Washington families this week. They will be sent as donations from the students and faculty of the University. Miss Frances Kirkpatrick, of the Home Economic Department, has contacted local social agencies and will supply as many of these helpless families "as you can supply baskets of food for them."

Urging support of this worthy cause,

Council Considers New Memberships

Amendment Provides for Admission of Other National Sororities, Locals

National sororities not members of the national Pan-Hellenic Council, as well as local sororities, would be admitted to the local Pan-Hellenic council if members of the council saw fit to extend them membership, under the provisions of an amendment to the constitution proposed at the last meeting of the Pan-Hellenic Council by Harriet Atwell, Chi Omega delegate.

The amendment will be voted upon at the January meeting, and, according to Clara Critchfield, president of the council, "it is practically sure of passing."
At the same meeting Mary Lee Watkins, Zeta Tau Alpha delegate, was elected chairman of the Pan-Hellenic prom committee. She appointed Mary Cox, Kappa Delta, and Edith Spaulding, Sigma Kappa, to serve on the committee.

Louise Linkins, Kappa Kappa Gamma delegate, proposed another amendment providing for a new method of electing council officers. The vote will be taken at the next meeting.

Troubadour Board Meets for Decision On Musical Comedy

The Troubadour board will meet at 7:30 tomorrow night to decide on the acceptability of two additional student-written musical comedy books recently received.

The board is making every effort to obtain a student-written book which will comply with President Marvin's requirements for a Troubadour show. At the same time it has been collecting data on the cost of producing various successful professional musical comedies.

If it is found necessary to use an outside book, the Troubadour constitution will have to be revised, since it states specifically that musical comedies shall be written, acted and produced by students.

Honored at Football Banquet

Thirty Major Letters Awarded as 300 Attend Annual Dinner

Ed Clark was selected by his teammates to captain the 1934 Colonial eleven at the annual football banquet sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa at the Broadmoor Saturday night. Clark, a tackle, won the admiration of players and fans alike the last part of the 1933 season by his stellar performance.

"Fuffy" Leemans was selected by the sports writers of the Washington newspapers to be the recipient of the cup awarded each year by Omicron Delta Kappa to the most valuable player on the team. The presentation was made by Wendell Bain, president of O. D. K.

Assistant Secretary Robert, all-American quarterback while at Georgia Tech, was guest of honor and principal speaker. On behalf of the Wash-

Furnishing of Lounge Rapidly Progressing

Completion of Work on Lambie House Lounge Expected Soon

Work is going ahead rapidly towards converting the first floor of Lambie House into a lounge for women and men of the University.

The University will have the first floor cleaned during the Christmas vacation in preparation for the new furniture which is now being selected by a committee of Columbian Women. Mrs. Barrow's office will be moved to the second floor.

The recent bridge party held by the Columbian Women to raise money for this work, was, according to Mrs. Barrows, "a tremendous success in every way." Over $330 was earned, including $50 from the sale of candy, and $33 derived from raffling a set of costume jewelry donated by Garfinkle's, which was won by Mrs. Charles S. Smith, wife of the professor of classical languages.

The Colonial Campus Club is working to furnish the library to be installed in the third floor of Lambie House. Letters have been sent to the members of the faculty, asking them to furnish books. Mrs. Barrows started the collection by donating about 50 volumes.

Student contributions are solicited by the club. Books may be left at the Lambie House, or those wishing to contribute may phone Margaret Elms at Kensington 116-W, and she will have them called for.

The library science department has agreed to catalogue the books.

Dean Doyle Honored By Pi Delta Epsilon

Dean Henry Grattan Doyle was elected president of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, at its national convention in Pittsburgh, held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of last week. Prior to his election to the presidency, Dean Doyle held the office of grand secretary.

Pi Delta Epsilon, whose purpose is to stimulate an interest in college journalism, was organized at Syracuse University in 1909. The George Washington chapter was formed in 1922.

No Hatchet Until January 9

What with Christmas coming on and shopping to do, The Hatchet staff has to have a vacation. We'll be back at the old stand on January 9. In the meanwhile you'll have to glean your news from the New York Times and our other distinguished contemporaries.

Early Registration For New Semester Begins on January 8

Tuition Fees Must Be in by February First, When New Semester Opens

The registrar's office has announced that the pre-registration period for next semester will begin January 8 and continue through January 19.

During this period students now enrolled in the University who expect to continue their work next semester may plan their schedules with the assistance of deans and advisors, execute the necessary forms, and complete registration. By this the inconvenience of the more crowded regular period may be avoided.

Initial payment of tuition should be made on or before February 1 in all schools. The usual late registration fee will apply if payment has not been made by that date.

Students entering the University from high schools or transferring from other colleges or universities will register January 31 and February 1. Attention is called to the fact that registration for the second semester is necessary in all cases, even though the student's program for the second semester be identical with that of the first semester.

For the convenience of those desiring to register in advance the procedure is as follows:

On page 8 is printed a form which should be filled in at once by all students of the University (except in the Law School) and brought or mailed to the Registrar's Office, Building G. Upon the receipt of this form properly filled out, the necessary forms for registration together with full instructions for their execution, will be issued to students.

Necessary changes in schedule, due to failures in pre-requisite courses, will be allowed until February 15 without charge.

Student Donations Should Be From Suggested Schedule

Barrels will be placed in front of the Law School, the Library, and Corcoran Hall today and tomorrow to receive donations for the "Christmas Food for Needy Families Drive." Students have been asked to bring one or more articles of food from the suggested list, or any other canned foods they may care to donate.

The list follows: 3 tall cans evaporated milk; 1/2 pound American cheese; head green cabbage; 3 pounds potatoes; 2 pounds carrots; 2 pounds onions; 1 can tomatoes; 2 loaves bread; package whole wheat cereal; 1 pound coffee; 1/4 pound tea; 2 cakes soap; 2 pounds apples; 1/2 dozen eggs; 1 pound raisins; 1/2 dozen oranges; 1 pound butter; 1/2 pound peanuts; roast loin of pork (4 or 5 pounds); leg of lamb (4 pounds); pot roast of beef (3 or 4 pounds chuck); chicken; 2 pounds sugar.

Christmas Greetings Given to University By President Marvin

A Merry Christmas. This year's Christmas is a time of joy for me for its meaning is one of stout-heartedness. Only brave hearts live today. Only tested souls understand what it is that we do. Some of you carry what seem to be almost too heavy burdens yet in courage you carry and have faith. Such faith, and strength, and understanding are precious gifts unconsciously laid before your own souls. They pledge our future to a more noble living. Again to you, A Merry Christmas.

Celestial Choruses Sing at Student Production Tonight

McKeon, Rappolt, and Lang-made Take Leads in Spanish Miracle Play

"Holy Night," a Christmas miracle play, will be presented by a cast of 50 George Washington students tonight at 8:15 in Pierce Hall of All Souls' Church, Sixteenth and Harvard streets northwest.

Written by the Spanish playwright, Gregorio Martinez Sierra, the play deals with a miraculous appearance of all the hosts of Heaven, led by the Virgin Mary, and marshalled by St. Francis of Assisi, at a Spanish cathedral's midnight mass on Christmas Eve. The opening scene will depict the conclusion of the service. After the service has been emptied there comes the sound of angelic music and there enter the miraculous visitants from Heaven. St. Francis tenders the Virgin a bouquet of the famous Roses of the Portunula. They go forth into the sleeping city to visit the hearts of men.

The production is directed by Miss Ruth Aubek Foster, of the women's physical education department, in charge of the dances, and Mrs. George W. Romney, dramatic director. The University Drama, Appreciation and Glee clubs will assist.

In addition to the regular speaking roles, there will be singing and dancing by different groups dressed as angels or street singers. Solo performances of the evening will be given by Willy Feuerlein on the accordion, Ruth Critchfield as a gypsy dancer, and Helen Bealke as a cabaret dancer.

The principals of the cast will be

January 12 Set as Balloting Date for All Class Elections

ADJUST IRREGULARITIES

Petitions for Candidates Will Be Received Until January 3

After a four-hour session a weary Student Council finally emerged with a set of rules, said to cover every known phase of elections—one which will be adequate to handle the class elections re-scheduled for January 12.

In announcing the new set of rules, the council stated that all candidates in the "null and void" elections of November 28, 29 were eligible with the exception of one, for the January 12 balloting. The present list of eligible candidates is printed below. In addition, council representatives said that any member of the student body who wishes to add himself to the list of candidates of any class may do so by presenting a properly signed affidavit in Dean Henry Grattan Doyle's office by 5 p. m., January 3. Affidavit blanks may be obtained at Dean Doyle's office.

New candidates for office in the junior, sophomore and freshman classes must have attached to their affidavits petitions signed by at least 30 members of their class. It was declared that any name appearing on more than one petition would be stricken from all petitions on which it appears.

Senior Council elections will also be held on January 12, the Council ruled. At the same time, a senior class president will be elected "at large." Candidates for the presidency to be eligible must have their petitions signed by at least 5 per cent of the entire senior class. Candidates for the Senior Council, however, shall have their petition signed by at least 5 per cent of the seniors in the particular college.

The 5 per cent enrollment of the various colleges is listed at the bottom of this page.

Though the senior class president will be elected at large, the remaining

Grid Schedule Hazy

As Pixlee Goes West

Louisiana State Only Confirmed Game; Temple Not in Program

Although the football schedule for next year was not announced at the banquet, as promised, developments chief of which is Coach Pixlee's trip to the West Coast, admittedly in search of games, may result in the announcement of the complete schedule soon. The exclusive Hatchet story two weeks ago which announced games with Tulsa, Oklahoma, and North Dakota, and the possibility of games with Vanderbilt and Temple has been in part repudiated.

As yet no official confirmation of the Tulsa, Oklahoma and North Dakota games has come from Pixlee, while Temple announced her completed 1934 schedule, which did not include George Washington. Rumor recently has not included Vanderbilt in the program for next season, although the Southerners have not announced their list for '34 as yet.

Louisiana State released her schedule, which included G. W. to be met here November 10 of next season. Pixlee definitely confirmed this game, which is the only one confirmed by the athletic director. It is thought, however, that Oklahoma, Tulsa and North Dakota will be on the list when it is released.

Combined Glee Clubs Will Sing at Annual Tree Lighting Service

Following the precedent of the past two years, the combined George Washington Glee Clubs will sing over a nation-wide hook-up Christmas Eve as they participate in the annual lighting of the national community Christmas tree at Sherman square.

President Roosevelt has been asked to bring the season's celebration to a climax by lighting the living tree at dusk, after a short address.

During the program, which starts at 4:30, the glee clubs will broadcast for fifteen minutes, presenting "Hail All Hail, the Glorious Morn," "The Angels and Shepherds," two old Bohemian carols, and "Silent Night."

This will probably be the last year that the lighting will occur at Sherman square, due to its recent reconstruction. It has been suggested that in future years the location should be changed to Lafayette square.

List of Candidates for Class Offices

Candidates for class elections whose petitions have already been accepted are listed below. Any other candidates must file petitions in Dean Doyle's office by 5 p. m., on January 3, 1934.

Charity Drive

THE Student Council-Hatchet campaign to provide food for a few needy families at Christmastime seems to be a triumphant success.

As this editorial is being written,
the office headquarters for the drive presents an inspiring scene. The first orders to arrive came from the fraternities. Then the faculty and religious clubs began sending in their baskets. Every few minutes a delivery man arrives with another basket piled high with food.
The "city room" is now beginning to look like a fair-sized grocery store. The phone rings intermittently and Ludwig Caminita, generalissimo of the campaign, races to and fro.

"The Greek department will send a basket? Order one and send you the bill? O. K."

"The grocery store will deliver yours, you say? Uh-huh, all right.
When? Oh, at your convenience.
Dean, at your convenience."

Yes, it is amusing, but if you stop to think, it is a great credit to the spirit of the University.

We extend our thanks to the fraternities, sororities, religious clubs, members of the faculty, administrative personnel, and student body as a whole for aiding us in this worthy cause.

Do Your Part

WE DECIDED that there ought to be an editorial about the fact that you should take as much interest in class elections as the Student Council did last week at their four-hour session on rules.

And then we discovered the editor of the McGill Daily has some ideas on the subject, too, and since "we" have two examinations this evening we reprint his ideas which are probably better anyway.

"Today elections are being conducted in various parts of the buildings for the purpose of filling certain positions on the Students' Executive Council and to appoint the members of the Scarlet Key Society for the coming year. The polls have been placed in convenient positions in the various buildings and are remaining open for such periods as are most convenient for the electors. The places and times of the polls are printed in another place in this paper."

"For the past few days we have endeavored to stress the importance of these elections, and the fact that it is imperative that every student should avail himself of his privileges. In one respect alone it seems inexcusable that any man or woman should omit doing his or her duty at the polls. They are placed in all the faculties, and it is a simple matter to slip into the room and cast the vote without taking more than a few moments. There is plenty of time between lectures for this. We cannot see any excuse for delinquency on the grounds of inconvenience or lack of time."

"We have stressed, too, the importance of this matter from the primary point of view. All will admit that it is common for one to hear the average student say that he does not see why elections should be held, and that he does not agree with the present system of student government. The students claim that their officers are holding mere sinecure positions and that the greater part of these officers are incapable for the jobs they hold."

"Therefore we would ask the student body to go to the polls today, and do the right thing by themselves. They know, or should know, where to go and what to do. Do it."

The parallel between the situation the McGill editor is confronted with and that at George Washington is striking.

JUST BETWEEN US--

By LUDWIG CAMINITA

Today and tomorrow the Hatchet and Student Council makes a last earnest appeal to the Student Body for help in the Christmas Food for Needy Families Drive. Unfortunately, the plans was developed a bit hastily and without warning.
Still, the student body can, and I am sure will, make this drive a successful one.

Needy families are in great number this year. Miss Kirkpatrick of the Home Economics Department made the statement that she could supply as many needy families as we could possibly fill baskets. And by needy families she actually means impoverished ones.

I could ask you to support the drive and donate at least one article of food by appealing to your sympathy, by writing a "sob story." But I shan't do that. These "sob stories" and pictures of starving families, when used often, finally harden us to the facts, and we take them as a matter of course.

In appealing for your help, which is merely that of dropping an inexpensive bit of food in a barrel, the thought strikes me is that of the satisfaction you will receive in knowing that when you eat your Christmas dinner there will be a couple of kids down in Shanty town doing the same thing just because you were kind enough to spare three minutes of your time to spend ten cents for a can of milk.

When I was asked to donate a pound of butter, I did so at once.
The young lady asking for the donation may have thought I was very kind. Yes, to myself. I did it for my own protection. Believe it or no, I did. I remembered that last Christmas as I was on my way to my Christmas dinner, I was stopped by a pan-handler. That's what I thought he was. He asked me for some money for food, or asked that I take him to restaurant.

Deciding he was merely a "professional," I went on. But I stopped to watch him, and I saw him sink into an alley about a block away to rummage in a garbage can. It sounds "silly," doesn't it, but I turned to catch up with him. By the time I reached the alley, he had disappeared. The poor fellow was no professional.

He was really hungry.

Well, perhaps I built a mountain out of a mole hill, to use a trite expression, but I didn't enjoy my Christmas meal. I had been hungry when I started on my way.
While I was eating, I kept thinking of that fellow whom I had "turned down." How would you have felt in his position if some one had refused you a meal and you were hungry, I asked myself? And I felt worse.

Above all, what made me downright blue was the fact that I had refused him on Christmas Day.
Christmas Day is a bit different than other days. You expect everyone to be cheery: everyone to find comfort. No one should suffer.
And when I thought that only a difference of fate, perhaps, had placed me where I was and him where he was, I didn't feel any better.

This year, I am protecting myself in advance. If I sit down to a cheery Christmas meal, all things being equal, I shall enjoy it.
I shall not have thoughts of having "refused" someone bothering me.
I shall feel snugly complacent, thinking that even if it was a small donation, at least I helped one person a little bit.

So there we are: some of us help because we feel sorry for others and want to help them; others of us donate because we want to enjoy our own meal and don't wish to be annoyed by that stinging something called conscience. Whatever type you are, it doesn't matter. What does matter is that as many needy families will be fed by George Washington students as they can afford to feed.

I'm certain the student body will go over the top. It has failed in emergencies before, it will not fail now.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all of you. And that greeting is for the faculty, too, who gave unintentionally of both its time and money to help the drive succeed.

Mummy Skull Found In Library

Will No Longer Scare Professors

Lehigh is still a rather young college in comparison with some of the other eastern universities, and it has hardly reached the age when stories spring up about ghosts and corpses in closets, but it seems that the University is in actual possession of a corpse that has startled certain members of the faculty from time to time. This might be called the story of the haunted hat box.

One day about nine years ago when Mr. Leach, the librarian, first came to Lehigh, he decided that he had better clean out of his office various papers and old boxes that had been left there by his predecessor. On the top shelf way out of reach was on old hat box which he knew had been the property of Mrs. Drinker, wife of the former president of the University.

Leach Finds Skull
Mr. Leach proceeded to get up on a chair and take the cover off the box, doubtless expecting to find an old flower garden hat of the gay nineties.
What he found almost caused him to fall off the chair in astonishment.
There, neatly packed in the box was a very much shriveled and dried up human head.

On further inspection, the grisly object proved to be the head of an Egyptian mummy. Not knowing quite what to do about a thing of that kind,

he put the cover on the box, and stored
it away.

Carothers Is Startled
This was not to be only time that the gentleman in the hat box was to spring a surprise. Dr. Carothers reports that he was in the library very late one night and entirely alone when he opened the haunted hat box, quite by accident. The effect that it produced could hardly be called pleasant.

Meanwhile, Mr. Leach's curiosity was aroused as to how a mummy should find its way into Mrs. Drinker's hat box. He asked Dr. Drinker one day and found out that it had been brought from Egypt as a present to their son who was at that time interested in Egyptology.

Dr. Stanley Thomas of the biology department also discovered the mummy one day, and apparently remembered it so well that he secured it from the library and placed it on display in the biology exhibit at the recent open house. It now reposes in Dr. Thomas' office in a glass case, never again to go back to the hat box and to scare people.

The actual identity of the mummy will never be known, but the certificate of antiquity from Blanchard's museum in Cairo that comes with it states that it is the head of an Egyptian mummy of the eighteenth or nineteenth dynasty, probably dating from 1200 to 1500 B. C.

Finance Survey Proves Frosh

To Be 'Bloatocrats' Of Lehigh

What with the bankers away on an eight-day fishing trip and available cash about as plentiful as 4.00 averages, Lehigh's student body find itself in the position of the groom at the altar with the ring safely at home in a bureau drawer.

When the bankers declared this little holiday last Saturday, the average student fortune, in cold cash, was $1.15.
Of course, this figure is not indicative of individual fortunes; but, taken all in all—and that's not takin' much—the student body found itself possessed of the afore-mentioned amount.

The far-sighted senior class is the pauper of the school with a personal fortune of $60. Juniors have one hundred pennies per man, while the sophomores swagger a close second with $97.
The freshmen are the "bloatocrats" of the outfit, having, on the average, $2.17 apiece.

Boards Dealt With
It is just such boards as the latter group that the present economic program intends to deal with. However, success is assured; for late reports have it that the freshman class took itself on a "binge" over the week-end and put $1.55 back into circulation.

Late Thursday afternoon, distress signals were received from the senior class, which informed the press that its reserves (financial of course) has dwindled to $2.24. All hope is not

Many Holiday Festivities Planned

Sororities, Fraternities, Clubs Plan Vacation Dances, Parties

"Coming events cast their shadows before them," as does the prevailing holiday season, with its accompanying spirit of festivity. Students who are not going out of town for the vacation will find plenty to keep them entertained during their absence from books and classrooms.

Wednesday night, Dec. 20, seems to lead in popularity, if one is to judge by the number of functions scheduled for that time. Chi Omega will give its Christmas formal at the Admiral with LeGrande's orchestra furnishing the music. Theta Delta Chi and Theta Upsilon Omega will hold dances at their houses, the latter to the tune of melodies provided by the Vikings. The Friars are having their Christmas dance at Powhatan Springs Tavern, with music by Louis Brown and his band.

Saturday night, December 23, appears to be another dancing night. The Sigma Nu's and their friends will dance at the chapter house to the rhythm of Bill Baldwin's Ambassadors. Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Alpha have announced that they, too, are holding Christmas dances Saturday night.

Pi Beta Phi has chosen Christmas night as the date of their Christmas formal, the Admiral as the place, and LeGrande's as the music.

Zeta Tau Alpha has announced that its Christmas formal will be given at the Admiral Thursday night, December 28, with harmony provided by the Trojans.

Friday, December 29, Kappa Deltas will dance at their house to music furnished by the Maryland Collegians, and Alpha Delta Pi's will waltz and fox-trot at the Army War College to the Trojans' melodies.

Pi Sigma Kappa will hold a dance at the Roosevelt Hotel Saturday night, December 30, with tunes by the Trojans, as a part of the entertainment program of the convocation of Southern chapters of the fraternity.

Sigma Chi Gives Dinner Dance
And now to look back into the past for a brief survey of last week's social events. Sigma Chi held a dinner dance at the chapter house Friday night, December 15. LeGrande's orchestra furnished music for the dancing.

About ninety couples attended the Christmas dance given by the Newman Club at Kenwood Country Club Friday night, December 15.

El Club Espanol held a party and dance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fern, 1311 New Hampshire avenue, Saturday night, December 16. The outstanding feature of the evening was the "pinata" according to Latin-American tradition.

Fraternity Financiers Reluctantly Reveal Chapter Costs

By Dick Creyke

"It costs on an average of $38.50 a month to live in a fraternity house at the University of Minnesota. Find out what it costs here."

Just like that—the editor sent me out to inspect and get insulted, to suspect and be suspected, and generally to snoop into fraternity affairs.

I snooped last week and found that the average cost of room and board for men living in fraternity houses and those in boarding houses was the same. The average cost among the fraternities is $37.50 a month. Mrs. Barrows, who was less suspicious and much more cordial, stated that this was about the amount charged by the boarding houses of which she has a record. A similar survey made at the University of Minnesota showed that the average cost at the fraternity house there was $38.50.

The highest charge exclusive of dues among the fraternities was $45; the lowest, $35. Mrs. Barrows stated that boys could live outside for less if they rented a basement or attic room and cooked some of their own meals there.

The average fraternity initiation fee was found to be $57.50 among the twelve fraternities on the Interfraternity Council. The average at Minnesota was $65. Chapter dues average $5.25 a month, and run between $4 and $8. Pledge dues average $3, among the six fraternities charging them.

The average for national order dues is $9 a year. Five fraternities charge rush fees, averaging $5 a year.

In order to further depreciate the pocketbook, each fraternity has its own various idiosyncratic assessments, such as building funds, social fees and special social taxes. No one, not even those who have them, could keep these straight, so what's a poor reporter to do?

Outside Activities Extolled by Yeager

"Extra-curricular activities teach students the art of self-expression," Willard Hayes Yeager, Depew professor of public speaking, stated at a meeting of The Hatchet business staff Wednesday night, December 13. Professor Yeager went on to say that employers have learned that poise and the knack of meeting people are not developed through books; and, consequently, they are more interested in an applicant's leadership in university affairs than in his classroom ability. The rest of the meeting was devoted to an open forum.

Its first acts as an official organization were the adoption of a key and the laying of tentative plans for a dance this spring.

6 Senior Women With Major Letters, 1 Junior, Report for Basketball

Seven of last year's letter players in women's basketball are out for practice this season, six of them being on the senior team and one on the junior team.

The senior players with major letters are Louise Cox, Catherine Crane, Kitty Fox, Henrietta Hobson, Patsy Jones, and Mary Lee Watkins. Frances Thompson is the junior letter player.

The inter-class tournament last year was won by this year's senior team, but the junior team was a close second, and is supplemented this year by several transfer students, so the competition will probably be close.

Besides the class games, which will be played next semester, plans are being made for a basketball meet between Hood College, Goucher College, and the George Washington University, which will be held February 24 at Goucher.

At the Luther Club Christmas party, "Belles and Beaux," which was held at the Concordia Lutheran Church Wednesday, December 13, Dr. Seeger was presented with a pair of book-ends. # Swimmers Face Hardest Schedule In Colonial Tank History

Delaware Contest First on Schedule Of Eight Matches

Virginia, Duke and V. M. I. Also Meet Colonials at Ambassador Pool

By John Busick
(Sports Editor)

The most difficult swimming schedule in Colonial tank history has been carded for Coach Al Lyman's team, which opens its season January 13 against Delaware University at the Ambassador Hotel. Six matches have been definitely scheduled for the veteran squad and two more are pending. Following the Delaware match, Virginia, V. M. I., Johns Hopkins, Duke and Lafayette meet the Buff and Blue swimmers in the order named.

Negotiations are being conducted with Lehigh and Swarthmore and Lyman has high hopes of adding these two matches to his already auspicious list. If scheduled, both teams will visit Washington to engage the Colonials in their home pool at the Ambassador.

Present arrangements take the G. W. squad out of town only once. The Blue Jays of Johns Hopkins, traditional tank opponents, act as host to Lyman's outfit in Baltimore February 17. Last year the Marylanders eked out a 34-32 victory over George Washington and the team from last season, returning almost intact, is anxious to atone for that defeat.

V. M. I. Strong
The addition of V. M. I. and Lafayette rounds out this year's schedule as well high perfect. Both schools have strong teams, particularly the Cadets, who have made their mark in Southern competition in the past two campaigns.

All four other teams scheduled met and defeated the Colonials last season with the exception of Duke, which tied G. W. 33-33. However, the Lyman-coached squad came forward with a rush near the season's close to annex the District A. A. U. title at the Shoreham and clearly demonstrate its superiority in this vicinity.

Lyman has had his team in serious training since the middle of October and expects it to reach top form by the beginning of the intercollegiate campaign, instead of at the close as it did last year.

Losing only Burnside from the '33 outfit and having added several men who have shown up splendidly in drills, the stocky mentor is extremely enthusiastic over the prospects for this season. In addition to Beverly Carter and Fred Helwig, who delighted Lyman early in the fall with their performance, he has another new man who looks extremely promising; John Kelly is the latest find and judging from his work in the sprints and relay, the team should be materially aided by his presence.

INTENSIVE FOOD DRIVE FOR NEEDY FAMILIES STARTED

President William Helvestine of the Student Council said:

"Certainly no one can deny that the idea of helping those families who have been unable to support themselves through this crisis is a good one. I can only urge that students support the campaign to the best ability of their purse. I recognize that there are many of us who are not too well off financially ourselves, but it only takes 10¢ or 15¢ to buy one of those tins of food, and it requires no more than a moment to purchase it at a store on the way to school and a fraction of a moment to drop the article in the barrels."

Editor John Madigan, in asking support for the drive, added that if each student purchased just one small canned article of food, or added his donation in the form of a small gift, the total would amount up sufficiently to feed some two hundred families.

Automobiles Wanted
Fraternalities, at late reports, were buying the full list in blanket orders and then asking individual support from members. Sororities were doing the same. Difficulty in getting campus club organizations to donate baskets on a short order notice was eliminated by the hard work of club presidents and faculty advisors who used phones and private home visits to fill baskets. One faculty member received four full baskets from a campus club within four hours after being notified of the drive.

The Headquarters Committee, which will meet in The Hatchet offices tonight to complete the list of needy families, will appreciate volunteers with automobiles at their disposal who care to assist in the delivery of the baskets. Call in person, or phone District 5170, if you wish help in delivery.

Geneva and Furman Engage Colonials Before Long Trip

Team Reaches Top Form; C. C. N. Y. First of Five Games Listed Away

With two scalp under its belt, Coach Ted O'Leary's varsity five has passed its warming-up stage and will soon meet tough opposition. Friday night Geneva College, a team of uncertain strength, invades the H street coliseum, while the strong Furman aggregation comes up from the South to Washington for a battle with the Colonials Thursday, December 28.

Both of these games should give G. W. supporters a good line on the team's actual strength before it goes on the road for a series of games beginning with City College of New York December 30. Even the pessimistic admit that the starting team in the first two games played smoothly and powerfully and showed possibilities of surpassing last year's outfit.

The combination of Jimmy Howell and Barney Kane, forwards; Bill Noonan, center, and Sam Stein and Dal Shirley, guards, has proven to be a small but fast quintet. It makes up in speed what it lacks in height, and with an array of "giants" on the bench, O'Leary has the material needed to mow down any opponents who dwarf his starting five.

Jimmy Smith, forward, and Henry Ruley, center, are the most dependable subs, although Cal Griffith, Tuffy Lee, and Joe Walsh, and Bernie Phillips have perked up considerably in practice of late.

Following the C. C. N. Y. engagement, the Colonials journey to Philadelphia January 3 to meet Temple. Two days later G. W. travels below the Mason and Dixon line, meeting Wake Forest in the North Carolina town. January 10 and 11 finds O'Leary's lads in New York engaging St. John's of Brooklyn and Long Island, respectively. The next home game is with V. P. I. January 19.

Duplicating its performance of Monday night's opener, the Buff and Blue quint ran up an early lead on Baltimore in the G. W. gym Wednesday night, and, although harder pushed than against Shenandoah, tallied a 47-30 victory. Howell and Stein again dominated the scoring and general floor play, with the latter again showing his smooth floor game and skill in directing the attack.

Frosh Quint Meets Wilson and Eastern

The freshman quintet swings into action again today when it meets the Wilson teachers in the H street gymnasium. Little is known of the Teachers, except that they have several men with considerably more experience on the floor than the Colonial yearlings can boast of.

Eastern's high-powered five, whom the frosh meet on the Colonial court January 5, will be the next foe on an ambitious 19-game schedule.

ANNUAL FOOTBALL BANQUET

The Hon. L. W. Robert, assistant secretary of the Treasury, addressed the affair at the Broadmoor last Saturday night, and he gave the boys plenty to think about. Mr. Robert commented on the ideal type of alumni, and mentioned the value of a "natural rivalry." Exactly what our guest meant by natural rivalry is a little dubious. Perhaps he had reference to Tulsa, or maybe it was C. U., or maybe it was an "innocent third party."

Speaking of Mr. Robert, Zuzu says, "I like that gentleman. He talks like m' daddy."

Ed Clark received the highest honor that his teammates could pay in the shape of "1934 captain-elect." Congrats, Ed. We know you're a good man for the job, and we wish you the best of luck. . . . Tuffy Lee, who received the highest honor that the sports writers could give in the form of the O.D.K. "valuable player award."

Unfortunately both Mr. Pixlee and Dr. Marvin were absent from the dinner. Dr. Marvin was ill. Mr. Pixlee was on his way to California. We've heard a lot of rumors—we believe he is attempting to schedule Santa Clara, since the Santa Clara's come East to play Fordham (we believe) and Jim would like to have them extend their trip.

The athletic department promised to announce the schedule at the banquet, but it failed us. We're getting kinda anxious at this point, and wish the Boss would hurry back. . . . Len Walsh, pinch-hitter, for Mr. Pixlee, went through the award list and said a word about all the warriors. We do believe his remarks were a little partial to Finis Parrish. No use talking—Finis was a mighty valuable man.

Sigma Nu is now the proud possessor of the interfrat tennis and golf championships and the runner-up award for basketball—which reminds us that there is a mighty long lull between interfrat basketball and bowling seasons. The Greeks might take to ping pong (merely a suggestion).

Frosh Basketeers Win Triple Victory

Cubs Flashy in Downing Western, Roosevelt and Central in First Games

Frosh basketball interests got off to an auspicious start by capturing their first three games last week as Western, Roosevelt and Central fell before the fast-moving Colonial cubs.

With McGibboney, Canetax, Berg and Forst displaying a fine brand of play in these initial contests, to support players of such recognized ability as Johnson, Nichols, Burke and Russell, indications point to the best freshman aggregation in three years.

In the first game of the season, with Western, the freshman machine functioned effectively from the start, the score at the half being 22 to 3. Scoring slowed down in the second half as Coach Roland Logan began to change his line-up and the final count was 32 to 20.

McGibboney, Russell Star
With McGibboney and Russell accounting for 19 points, the cubs had little difficulty in disposing of the Roosevelt Rough Riders in the H street gym Friday by the score of 31 to 12.

On Saturday the frosh came right back to down the District High School championship Central team 28 to 25 in a thrilling contest, hard fought from start to finish. With the score 23 to 19 in favor of Central and only three minutes to play, it looked as though the cub Colonials would get their first taste of defeat, but they showed unusual ability to rally and made nine points in rapid fire order while their opponents could only account for two points.
